NCBWA HONORS
Four member of the Lubbock Christian University baseball team were recognized as All-South Central Region selections by the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association (NCBWA) Wednesday, as Ricky Contreras (pitcher) and Brandon Rix (third base) received First Team honors and Jaime Bustamante (shortstop) and Ryan Rogers (designated hitter) claimed Second Team honors.

Contreras, a sophomore pitcher, is 9-2 on the season with a 2.83 ERA. He has made 15 starts (ranks fourth nationally), with six going the distance to rank 13th nationally in complete games. The Lubbock, Texas native co-leads the conference and ranks tied for 21st nationally in victories on the mound with nine. A Heartland Conference First Team selection and Heartland Conference Pitcher of the Year, Contreras is a first-time NCBWA All-Region recipient.

Rix, who was named CoSIDA Academic All-District and All-Heartland Conference First Team, claims his first NCBWA All-Region honor. The third baseman from Cañon City, Colo. is hitting .325 this season with 64 hits and 32 RBI. He ranks sixth in the conference in sacrifice bunts (6).

Bustamante, LCU's primary leadoff batter, is hitting .352 on the squad this season with 74 hits and 35 RBI. His 74 hits ranks second in the conference. The Presidio, Texas native also ranks second in the conference in triples (6, which ranks tied for 11th nationally), fourth in runs (51) and fifth in total bases with 109. This is Bustamante's first NCBWA All-Region accolade. He claimed Heartland Conference All-Conference and All-Defensive Team honors with a .937 fielding percentage.

Rogers claims his first NCBA All-Region award. The junior from Littlefield, Texas claimed All-Conference honors with a .360 hitting mark on the season. He leads the team with 17 doubles (third in the conference) and 45 RBI (fifth in conference).

The honor marks gives LCU 11 recipients of All-Region honors by the NCBWA (all-time) and the matches the most LCU has received in a single-season since four received the honor in 2014.

CLOSING THE BOOK ON CONFERENCE
The Chaparrals hit .345 in conference games and had a 3.77 staff ERA. Ryan Rogers hit .391 in conference games, while teammates Caleb Koedyker (.375) and Brent Stewart (.354) and hit over .350 in conference. Nine Chaps had at least 14 RBI in conference, with Koedyker and Rogers co-leading the club with 22 RBI. Rotation pitchers Daniel Crooks (5-0), Russell Reber (4-1) and Ricky Contreras (7-1) combined to go 16-2 in conference games. Contreras had five of his six complete games in conference play.

NEUTRALIZING
LCU has seven neutral site games under their belt this season. The Chaps are 5-2 in neutral site games, opening the season 4-0 at the 2017 AirHogs Classic in Grand Prairie, Texas. Jaime Bustamante leads LCU with a .414 average in neutral site contests with four extra-base hits (three doubles) and six RBI.

STREAKS
LCU's hitting woes at the Heartland Conference Tournament impacted the Chaps active hit streaks, as every Chap (everyday players) had at least one hitless appearance. Josh Narvaiz leads LCU into the tournament with a two-game hit. The longest hit streak of the season was an 18-game streak by Tony Reyes. Jaime Bustamante is the active leader in consecutive games reaching base safely with a streak of 10 consecutive games. Brandon Rix has the season's longest streak of reaching base safely at 29.

JUST A NEW CHAPTER
Postseason ventures are not uncommon for LCU, who is making their second NCAA postseason appearance in their second season of postseason eligibility. The Chaps made 12 national championship postseason appearances in the NAIA (excludes regional appearances, which the NAIA did not constitute as national championship appearances), resulting in 10 NAIA World Series berths and two national titles (1983, 2008). LCU has made national championship postseason appearances in every season they have been eligible since 2008 (seven straight seasons).

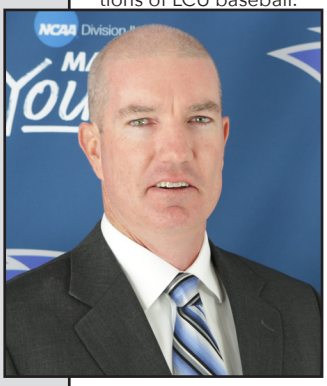
Throughout its history, the Lubbock Christian University baseball program has remained its status among the nation's top NAIA powers and transitioning to be one of the top programs at the NCAA Div. II level. Much of that over the past decade-and-a-half has been due to the leadership of head coach Nathan Blackwood and his defiance towards maintaining the traditions and maintaining the alumni relations of LCU baseball.



Heading into the 14th season of his watch, the Chaps have amassed an overall mark of 551-216 (.718), and after all their Sooner Athletic Conference success, they made their Heartland Conference debut during the 2014 season with a 26-4 conference record en route to a first place record in the conference. Since then, LCU has completed their transition process and claimed their first NCAA Div. II postseason appearance in 2016 with a trip to Grand Junction, Colo. to the South Central Regional. LCU bounced back from a 23-25 season in 2015 with a 37-19 mark in 2016 and achieved as high as a No.6 national ranking in their first season eligible for NCAA postseason.

During their NAIA run, Lubbock Christian University made four trips to the NAIA World Series under Blackwood's guidance. In their final NAIA season (2013), LCU qualified for the NAIA postseason and made their fifth consecutive NAIA Opening Round series of the NAIA National Championships after winning their first SAC Tournament Championship since 2009. Included in the mix for the 2013 season was a 6-5 win over Texas Tech University on April 14.

The 2012 season season was a tough one for the Chaps, as they went 31-26 overall and 18-12 in conference, but they made a nice late season run. They upset ranked Oklahoma City University (tournament host) to finish as a runner-up in the Sooner Athletic Conference Tournament, which earned them a spot in their fourth NAIA Opening Round tournament.

2011 was a memorable year for the Chaps. After a three-year span of claiming the SAC regular season title, the Chaps had to fight to continue a three-year consecutive streak of qualifying for the NAIA World Series. After a third place finish in the SAC regular season, the Chaps qualified for the NAIA Opening Round Series. LCU hosted the opening round tournament for a third consecutive season, and for the third straight year, the Chaps won the tournament and qualified for the World Series. The Chaps nearly had a fairy tale ending to the season, but the Chaps would end up falling to Concordia (Calif.) in the championship game and they finished as NAIA World Series Runner-Up. They finished 50-14 overall (21-9 in the SAC).

In 2010, LCU made a trip to the World Series after posting a 24-5 record in SAC play to claim their third consecutive regular season conference title. The Chaps went 46-16 during the regular season and led the NAIA with a .371 batting average. Blackwood claimed Sooner Athletic Conference Coach of the Year and ABCA Regional Coach of the Year honors. The conference honor for Blackwood was his fourth over a seven year span.

The Chaps had a remarkable season in 2009 claiming the second National Championship in school history (first one since 1983) while amassing a 52-8 overall record. They claimed their third Sooner Athletic Conference title under Blackwood's guidance and were ranked No. 1 in the final national poll for the second consecutive year. He was named the 2009 National Coach of the Year and the SAC Coach of the Year.

The Chaps had a remarkable season in 2008 with a 53-4 final record, which was the lowest single-season loss total in Lubbock Christian history. They claimed their second Sooner Athletic Conference title under Blackwood's tenure and were ranked No. 1 in the final regular season NAIA Top 25 Poll. It was the first time the Chaps had received the No. 1 ranking since 1985.

The 2007 season saw the Chaps post an overall record of 37-17, finishing the campaign in the semi-finals of the NAIA Region VI Tournament in Houston. Their run in the post-season left them as the final SAC team in action in 2007. The Chaps managed a runner-up finish in the always-brutal SAC by posting a school-best 18-3 league mark, finishing just one-half game out of the conference title spot.

In only his third year at the helm of the Lubbock Christian University baseball team, Blackwood enjoyed a level of success few coaches ever get the opportunity to experience. In 2006, LCU completed (at the time) the third most successful season in school history as the Chaps won the NAIA Region VI title for the first time and then proceeded to win the NAIA Mid-South Super-Regional and advance to the NAIA World Series, where they finished third. On the year, LCU finished 50-17 to post back-to-back 50 win seasons and ended the regular season ranked No.6 in the nation.

In 2005, the Chaps completed a 17 game turnaround as they posted a 53-15 record, won their fourth Sooner Athletic Conference title, and advanced to the NAIA Region VI championship game. The marked turnaround demonstrated Coach Blackwood's ability to adjust quickly and was impressive enough to earn him both Sooner Athletic Conference and NAIA Region VI Coach of the Year Honors.

A native of Lubbock, Texas, Blackwood attended Lubbock Christian Schools where he played football, basketball, and baseball for the Eagles in the late 1980s. Following graduation, Blackwood moved across the street to Lubbock Christian University where he played baseball in 1991 and 1992, and he earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Interdisciplinary Studies upon graduation in 1995.

After finishing up his undergraduate work, Blackwood held several different coaching positions around West Texas including stints in Ralls and Haskell. In 1998, he secured a job as the Assistant Baseball Coach at Harding University. While at Harding, Blackwood played an integral role in turning around the Bison program, and he also found time to attend class. In 2000, Blackwood received his Master's of Education Degree in Exercise Science, allowing him to return to LCU later that year as the Interim Chair of the Kinesiology Department until taking over the head coaching position for the Chaps in the summer of 2003.

Despite all of his talents and accomplishments, Blackwood's crowning achievements are his marriage to the former Kim Lindsey (LCU alumnus) in 1995 and his two children, Brennan and Lindsey.
